WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A modendum bill—a proposal to make a vote of the people mandatory before American citizens could be drafted for service overseas—was sponsored today by Rep. Hamilton Fish (R) New Ludlow plan, to require a vote of the people before congress could declare war against any nation or his proposal at the January session much of the opposition that defeated the Ludlow bill in the last regular session.

There was lots of opposition to the war vote plan, mainly on the ground it would interfere with na-

City Of Flint Will Not Be Molested On Return Trip, Nazis Say

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Government officials expressed the hope today that there will be no slip up in Germany's voluntary pledge not to molest the American Freighter
City of Flint on its homeward voyage from Norway, provided she does not carry contraband.

Fear had been felt in Washing-

A German naval crew had held her as a prize for about 28 days but was forced to surrender her when they directed her into a neutral Norwegian port.

Intensified Sub War Indicated By Nazis

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Indicating intensified German submarine warfare against British and French shipping German newspapers today published a list of armed Allied liners, including the giant Queen
Mary and the new Mauretania.

The list was not described as necessarily complete, since it contained only the names of ships which are "known to be armed."

British vessels said to be armed included the Albatross, Alcantara, Aquitania, Britannia, Cameronia, Empress of Russia, Georgic and Seydlitz. Altogether 26 such ships were named.

Armed French vessels were listed as the Athos II, De Grasse, Desdrame, Kerguelen and Mexique.

Field Marshal Hermann Wei-helm Goerring's newspaper, the Essenener National Zeitung, stated:
"England, if keeping within international law, can expect us to do the same. But it would be suicide for us to feel bound by the

Destroyer Strikes Mine And Sinks

Two British Freighters And Trawler Are Sunk In Sub Attacks

RESCUE SEVENTY OF DESTROYER CREW

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Naval warfare flared on the high seas off England's coast today when a destroyer of the Royal Navy, two British freighters and a trawler were sunk one after the other after striking mines or running afoul of enemy submarines.

The destroyer was the first of its class to be lost by the British navy since the war began. The number of casualties was not known, but the British admiralty stated that "more than 70 survivors" had been picked up.

Mine Sinks Destroyer
A floating German mine sent the destroyer, as yet unidentified, to the bottom, but a Nazi U-boat was responsible for sinking the small trawler Cresswell, which went down off the Scottish coast with the loss of six members of her crew of 12.

The other victims of the sudden resurgence of naval warfare were the freighter Matra, which sank after an explosion in the North Sea, and another unidentified merchant ship which went down only an hour after the destroyer sank and in the same region.

Two men were killed and 22 injured in the explosion which sank the Matra. A lifeboat putting out from shore rescued the captain, the pilot ten officers and forty lascars who comprised the crew.

May Not Need Special State Session

Governor Hopes To Evade Call

Declining Public Assistance Rolls May Eliminate Legislative Session

SESSION IN SPRING IF IT IS REQUIRED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—Declining public assistance rolls make the possibility of a special legislative session more remote than at any time in the past five months, declared Gov. Arthur H. James today.

"If we can hold off until April 1 we can carry on relief with forty or fifty millions at the outside," observed the governor in his weekly press conference.

"If the call for a special session is sounded, however, it will come in all likelihood in advance of the Republican National Convention next June," he added.

"The legislature would be convened when the emergency arises," explained the governor. "I do not propose to determine the convening of the legislature by the date of the Republican National Convention."

"It would not be wise to keep the boys away from the national convention, however."

No Controversial Matter
The chief executive ruled out the possibility of remedial anthracite coal legislation before the regular session in 1941. "No controversial matter," he said, "would be included in the special session call."

Governor James struck back at critics who charged he has been lending his name to state advertising in order to boom his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination in 1940.

"It is not promoting the presidential possibilities of the governor of this state to have his name attached to publicity coming out of the commonwealth," said Gov. James.

"I must say I am not as modest as to try to hide my light under a bushel basket."

The governor said he was convinced that the Department of Commerce has justified itself and that industrial leaders "find it a place to contact and someone to tell their troubles to."

ing the people the right to vote before imposing draft for service overseas only, will not have this opposition."

Fish, ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs committee, led the unsuccessful fight in the house against repeal of the arms embargo. He will leave Washington in two weeks for a speaking tour on the Pacific coast and in the middle west. He said he would speak mainly on neutrality "but there might be some politics."

"If the European war lasts, which I hope it won't, neutrality will be the biggest issue in the next campaign," he said. "Repeal of the arms embargo marked only the beginning of the fight to keep America out of war. I believe there is real danger of our getting involved because I have no faith in the president keeping us out."

Neutrality and national defense occupied congressional attention on two other fronts today. A subcommittee of the house naval affairs committee prepared to leave tomorrow in a navy seaplane to inspect the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla., where an enlargement program is underway, the now closed navy yard at New Orleans, and the proposed naval air station at Corpus Christi, Texas.

At the same time, delegate Samuel King of Hawaii, was enroute westward today after arranging to meet an informal congressional committee in San Francisco. The party will sail November 17 to inspect projects in the Hawaiian Islands particularly military and naval defenses.

HITLER REJECTS NEUTRALS' OFFER FOR MEDIATION

ish first lord of the admiralty Winston Churchill, "stand as final proof that war alone can decide the issue," authentic quarters said.

Where and how Germany's armed might will strike remain known only to the Fuehrer and a few of his closest key-men. But that a staggering blow against England one way or another is coming is an open secret.

Moved Too Late
The neutral nations moved too late in their efforts to mediate the issue, spokesmen said. President Roosevelt, they declared, "missed the greatest opportunity of his lifetime" by failing to step in after Hitler's speech to the Reichstag in which he enumerated his peace conditions.

Meanwhile, authoritative sources emphasized the importance of Germany's action in publishing a list of "armed allied liners," including the giant Queen Mary and the new Mauretania.

Although somewhat vague, these quarters gave the impression that any of these vessels would be sunk on sight on the grounds they have been armed and converted into naval auxiliaries.

"The finger has been pointed at them," it was said. "This is a forewarning."

These quarters took issue with the American contention that merchant ships are entitled to carry "defensive weapons," declaring it was impossible to differentiate between offensive and defensive shipping.

"A U-boat captain cannot be expected to differentiate," the spokesman said. "Henceforth these ships will be regarded either as warships or franc-tireurs' snipers of the sea."

"Neither is entitled to a warning."

PA NEW OBSERVES

end. Whether that makes the war and tear less or more is a subject of controversy. It may all depend on how big a glutton you are.

Traveling here and there Pa Newc notes that there are a great many Lawrence county farms posted with "no trespassing" notices. This is a warning to hunters to keep off. The few reckless hunters have made it hard for the careful ones just as some "thumbs" have made it hard for the honest and reliable hitch-hiker.

While out chasing rabbits in Plaingrove township Saturday, Thomas Ferguson of Edgewood avenue, had hard work keeping from being run down by deer. He was on the Miles farm when a doe, chased by a dog, shot past him, and he did not yet recovered from his surprise, when a big buck hove in sight and stopped a short distance away. The buck and Ferguson stared at each other for some minutes, but the buck finally decided that he was wasting his time and moved on.

Hereditarily seems to play an important part in determining longevity, as witness the case of Mrs. Catherine Kresge, of Stroudsburg, mother of a well known chain store operator, who celebrated her 100th birthday recently. Mrs. Kresge's mother also passed the century mark by four months and eight days.

In a recent visit to a Lawrence county farm house, Pa Newc noted a dog-churn, one of those contraptions where a big dog walks a moving incline never gets anywhere, yet does a churning. There are very few of these old dog-churns left in the county, since electricity has taken their places, and we might add, much to the satisfaction of Rover.

Freight business still going strong. A train of 116 cars of coal travelling over the Erie Railroad Monday, a double header, held up traffic on the West Washington crossing about ten minutes.

Should you have a pile of leaves in your yard and be a fisherman, you may be able to find worms by turning over the leaves, according to Charles Nolan, city employee. He has a pile of leaves in his yard and when he wants to go fishing turns over the leaves and secures his bait, he said today.

Nature lovers can be seen almost constantly, strolling about the grounds of Cascade Park, enjoying the beauty of the autumnal cloak the trees have taken on. For natural beauty, travelers the world over, have stated that Cascade Park is outstanding.

Pa Newc has learned something about the big mushroom crops that are grown in the caves down at Wampum. These caves are the abandoned workings of the former Crescent Cement company, now operated by the Medusa Cement company. Instead of being stripped, the limestone has been mined. It is said that there are about twenty-five miles of underground caverns. Some of these have been utilized in the raising of mushrooms. What Pa Newc has learned is that the soil, or compost mulch used, must be changed every three months. After that period it will produce hardly any mushrooms. This changing of the mulch is one of the big items of expense. The mulch used to be kept on tables or racks, but it has been found that it does better on the ground, where the temperature stays at an even 54 degrees.

Farmers in various parts of the county have been seeing deer. Several have been noted on Jake McCracken's farm at Harlansburg and one has been seen on Samuel Campbell's farm near Plaingrove. Pennsylvania Power company employee Walter Gross saw one near the Harbor bridge.

No difference where one motors in the rural sections he sees apples, a big crop having been experienced. Some farmers have not attempted to pick their apples. The ground beneath trees is covered.

The love of a little sister for her big brother, the latter who was only in knee pants, was observed this morning by Pa Newc enroute to work, when he noticed a little girl not more than 7 or 8, trudging her brothers tuba horn, walking along his side as if it were her biggest joy. He, in a whistling mood, was carefully carrying a garment in a dry cleaning bag and school books.

Commissioner of Police, Lynn G. Adams is right in his warning that many automobiles and trucks are running too closely together. Such practices constitute a hazard, and there are plenty of such instances right in sight of all of us every day. Nothing is really gained by driving up close behind another car, or truck, and there is a good chance of a collision if the vehicle ahead stops suddenly. Always stay far enough behind another car that you can stop in case of an emergency.

Youngsters have to go through that period of life, of playing in the leaves of the trees which have fallen into the streets, and invariably, have to be covered up with same, which invites danger. Pa Newc noticed such an incident on Park avenue a couple of days ago. A heap of leaves started to move about in the gutter only in the nick of time when spotted by a driver of an auto who was about to pull up and park his car. Parents should warn their children of danger connected with this sport. The youngster was hiked out of the heap by a passer-by and told to play on the sidewalk where it was much safer.

Someone is apparently having a log cabin erected at Lakewood. Part of the work of construction has been completed.

Building season does not seem to have been halted in the suburban areas around New Castle, despite the approach of winter. A considerable number of new homes have recently been started on the outskirts of the city, Pa News notes.

sented by Chairman Norman E. Clark, who appealed for the united support of the residents of Lawrence County in the current appeal for membership.

Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive secretary of the Chapter, whose capable administration has brought the chapter to the fore among the 2700 Chapters of the Red Cross, was introduced and thanked the board members and citizens who have given their time and assistance to the Chapter's program.

Hope Of The World
Mr. Fieser stated that the hope of the world is interwoven with the growth and durability of the Red Cross. In observing the 75th anniversary of the Red Cross idea, acquaintanceship with the Red Cross and its great purpose has become universal.

He spoke of the advance in organization of the Red Cross, over what it was in 1917, when the United States went into the World War. Then there were but 107 chapters in the country. Today there are 3,700 chapters training people to be prepared for any emergency.

This consists of preparing the women in home hygiene and care of the sick, so that they can be ready for such a great disaster as the influenza epidemic of 1918; training two million men and women in First Aid; a million men and women in water life saving; and enrolling eight million youths in the Junior Red Cross. All of these people symbolize their interest in Red Cross affairs under the slogan of the Juniors, "I serve," Mr. Fieser stated.

In addition to the above, the Red Cross is still carrying on its work among the Veterans of the World War, and serving mankind in many other ways, which he enumerated.

Certificates Presented
In conclusion, he stated that it becomes the task of the Roll Call workers to help translate our opportunities for service and for the good of mankind into a sweeping humanitarian victory in this Roll Call.

After his address, certificates of appreciation were given to a number of chapter members, who have served the chapter in an outstanding manner during the past year. Those honored were: Chapter Chairman, Ralph F. Davis; Roll Call chairman, Norman E. Clark; Fred L. Rentz, president of The News; Frank Offutt, Herbert Kirk, of WKST; A. A. Shoup, J. KNICKERBOCKER GIVES IDEA OF MAGNOT LINE guns, the vicious explosives of the famous 75's, the high arched, dropping howitzers, or the steady sheet of machine gun bullets.

Fired Guns Once
"Yes," he laughed and his eyes lit up. "We did fire once. It was when the army started to move into the terrain in front of the Siegfried line."

"You see, not all the Magnot fortresses are in a position to fire immediately into Germany but we can." He pointed to a map showing the range of his guns and how some of them dominated a large sector of German territory.

"So we fired—Ha! and it was the first time those guns were ever fired."

"In anger?" I interjected.
"In anger or not, it was the first time they were really fired, because our practice is naturally with guns of a small calibre."

"And the first shot ever fired landed squarely on its objective. There was no bracketing at all."

"It was not necessary to change the elevation a millimeter to put the next shot in the same place, breaking up German troop concentrations. We ran them out of every place we struck, then ceased fire. They haven't come back."

"German artillery tried to reply, but literally they did absolutely no damage. Now, they didn't fire at this fortress; not one shot."

"It shows, perhaps, they felt it would be a complete waste of ammunition."

Electric Train Inside
It certainly looked as though it would have been.

The means of locomotion within this fortress give perhaps the best indication of its dimensions. At one of its several entrances we passed through massive concrete nine yards thick, into a corridor five miles long.

Awaiting us was an electric train, which hospitably was decorated with the American flag, next with the French tri-color. It moved off at a snappy pace, but it took 15 minutes to bring us to the heart of the fortress.

Dispatch bearers dash into the fortress corridors on motorcycles, roaring along as though it were a perfectly ordinary highway, then plunge headlong into the side of a mountain and penetrate the earth at 20 miles an hour.

More leisurely messengers pedal about on bicycles, but nobody walks any more than people in a hurry walk about a good-sized city.

The senior officer in command generously told us we could see anything we wanted, but he recommended a condensed inspection trip as it would take a week to cover the entire fortress.

We climbed up and down for hours, and visited the observation turrets where cunningly-concealed periscopes enable observers to watch the enemy without the physical possibility of being struck by any kind of projectile.

The fact is that soldiers in this and any other such fortresses are during wartime in greater security than anybody else in France!

We looked out again through the barrels of the very guns which talked to the German army—much bigger guns than any we had seen before. There lay the German lines framed in circles of glistening steel.

Between us and possible German fire lay 27 feet of concrete. The only injury that could be done to such a fortress actually appears to

MRS. CHAUNCEY DAVIS HONORED BY CHAPTER

Mrs. Marie Bixler, Mrs. Mary Watson, Mrs. Edna Woods, Mrs. George Rae, Mrs. Chauncey Davis, Mrs. Mary Osler, Mrs. Blanche Lewis, Mrs. Bessie Dukes and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy motored to Youngstown, O., Monday evening to attend the quarterly meeting of the Orange Home Chapter Auxiliary, Betsy Ross lodge, which took place in a hall on Federal street, when Mrs. Chauncey Davis was made honorary president.

Special recognition was paid Mrs. Davis of this city, founder of the organization two years ago, at an impressive ceremony, when a gift of leather was presented to her by Mrs. Iola Miller, new president from Butler. This feature was arranged by Mrs. Julia Hooker and was carried out in behalf of the organization, as a token of esteem in which they hold their leader.

The usual routine session was enjoyed with the Youngstown Chapter, acting as hosts during the earlier hours and contests claimed attention later. Toast refreshments were served.

Guests were present from Western and Eastern Pennsylvania, including over 500 in number, and coming from Ellwood City, New Castle, Butler and Youngstown. Plans were laid for the next meeting to take place in February in Ellwood City.

HOUSE GUESTS AT McILVAINE HOME

During their stay in New Castle Sunday and Monday, the Honorable C. Gilbert Wolfenden and Mrs. Wolfenden of Indiana, were entertained in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine, on Fairfield avenue.

In connection with their visit here, it is interesting to note that the men's friendship began back in World war days when both, just out of college, were sent to the same training camp (Sheridan) at Montgomery, Ala.

After the war ended in which they both gave distinguished service abroad, they met again casually in Indiana, former home of the McIlvaine's. Friendship was renewed, wives this time sharing. The four some has had many friendly reunions since.

Tigers Auxiliary

Mrs. Dan DiCarlo, Mrs. Marshall Clotto, Mrs. Anthony Recupio, and Mrs. John Largo were hostesses on Monday evening to members of the Tigers Auxiliary in the club rooms, South Jefferson street.

Prizes for high scores in cards were won by Mrs. John DeSantis, Mrs. James Fieno and Mrs. Paul Marrangoni. The club token was captured by Mrs. Louis Ross.

The birthday anniversaries of Mrs. James Fieno and Mrs. Domenick Retort were honored and each received a gift from her "big sister." Later in the evening, the hostesses served a tasty menu.

On November 27, Mrs. Nicolas Torsano, Mrs. Paul Marrangoni, Mrs. Domenick Genovese and Mrs. John Marrangoni will entertain.

Hon. C. Gilbert Wolfenden Is Guest Speaker At Women's Club

Today, the perplexing problem before the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the nation in general is: Can the nation live part employed and part on public assistance or relief?

So declared the Honorable C. Gilbert Wolfenden, state senator for Indiana and Jefferson counties, in an informative and worth while talk Monday afternoon before the Woman's club in Highland U. P. church.

The meeting was in charge of the Legislative department with Mrs. W. H. Hanger chairman, and Mrs. F. S. Breneman, co-chairman, as hostesses. It was well attended, even the balcony of the assembly room being filled.

Senator Wolfenden believes that "the employment problem must be solved on 'Main street'—like all other previous governmental problems. It can not and will not be solved by Wall street or Washington." The present set-up is un-American, he said, and drew parallels showing wherein the educational system for instance, is better controlled by communities themselves than if it were centralized.

He pointed out that "Our state government is unique in that the basic principles of religious security, political freedom and equality of opportunity were in force in Pennsylvania long before our national government was formed. Our commonwealth is truly the Cradle of American Liberty. The immortal Lincoln gave us the thought that our nation could not endure half slave and half free."

Relative to the public health bills (pre-marital and pre-natal examinations) backed by the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs and introduced by himself, the speaker said that the effect of these will be felt in a progressively happier and healthier citizenry as time passes.

Three departmental meetings will precede the next general meeting on November 27; Educational group at 1:30, Legislative at 1:30, Welfare at 1:45.

The general assembly at 2:30 will be addressed by Elizabeth Spann of Allegheny college, who appeared before the club last season and was well received. All meetings will be in Highland church.

READING CIRCLE '91 DISCUSSES FLORIDA

A most interesting program about Florida was presented when the Reading Circle of '91 met in the Y. W. C. A. on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Harvey Robinson as hostess.

In the absence of Mrs. John Bulmer, Mrs. David Rees was critic for the day and roll call was answered with "Fruits of Florida."

Papers were read as follows: "History of Florida," Mrs. F. E. Stough; "Products and Climate," Mrs. J. P. Caldwell; "Beauty Spots," Mrs. J. G. Clements. Each of these was well received by the group.

Mrs. W. A. Thornton was a special guest of the afternoon. The next meeting will be Monday, November 27, in the home of Mrs. S. M. Matheny, Wallace avenue. The Circle is also sewing at the Jameson Memorial hospital this month.

MISSIONARY GUEST OF CHURCH CHAPTER

Miss Marie Tait, a missionary from Egypt, was the guest speaker when the Rebekah Chapter, First U. P. church, met in the home of Mrs. Floyd Lortz, Euclid avenue, Monday evening.

There were 22 members and eight guests present. Mrs. Roy Grafton opened the program. Miss Tait displayed a number of articles she had brought with her from Egypt. Her sister, Miss Rachel Tait, was also a guest.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by Miss Mary Patterson, Mrs. Glen Carpenter and Mrs. Carl Hoch.

On December 11, the group will have their Christmas party in the church with Mary and Martha Circle members as guests.

Birthday Club Party
The Carnes' home on Warren avenue was a scene of merriment Saturday evening when Edyth Carnes entertained the members of the Birthday club at a dinner party in honor of Mrs. A. F. Stritzinger's anniversary.

At 6:30 o'clock, the guests were invited into the dining room to partake of a delicious menu. Mrs. Virginia Stewart and Helen Carnes aided the hostess in serving.

The remainder of the evening was spent at games of contest with prizes being awarded to Mrs. S. E. Parks and Mrs. Sally Degan.

Members will meet at the home of Mrs. A. F. Stritzinger on Cherry street, for a Christmas party, December 16.

R. A. C. Cousins Club

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Hammond, West Pittsburgh road, entertained R. A. C. Cousins club members in their home Saturday evening.

Cards provided the chief pastime, prizes being awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hammill. Lunch was served by the hostess. Special guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Abe Watson of McKeesport, Pa. and Mrs. Martin Brady of Northeast, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hess of Erie.

Next meeting will be Saturday evening, December 2, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hammill, Spruce street.

East Side Sub-Debs

The East Side Sub Debs met on Saturday evening at the home of Mary Matricardi, Allen street.

Plans were made for a tureen dinner and theatre party which will be held on November 25. Later, dancing was enjoyed, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her cousin, Evelyn Matricardi.

The next meeting will be the tureen dinner and theatre party on November 25 at the home of Phoebe Mears, Butler avenue.

McBride Auxiliary

Corporal Harry L. McBride Auxiliary, No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will have its regular business meeting in the Legion home on Thursday evening at 7:15. A social time, with an entertainment and lunch, will follow.

Dream Highway Is Taking Shape

Indications Point To All-
Weather Route Across
State Being Finished
On Time

ARMY OF MEN ARE WORKING ON ROAD

By TOM R. BRISLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—Pennsylvania's $61,000,000 federally-financed "dream" highway stretching through the Allegheny mountains between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh probably the greatest highway engineering project in modern road-building history—has begun taking definite form.

America's newest, super highway—and to date the most ambitious attempted—appeared nearing final stages of construction after slightly over a year's intense activity.

Paving on the 160-mile all-weather road, which will provide a low-grade, low-cost route across the mountain wall between the Pittsburgh industrial center and the state capital, was reported moving forward at a rate of nearly two miles daily.

Actually, one and three-quarter miles of 12-foot pavement was being placed daily on the entire turnpike, the turnpike commission revealed, with approximately four or five miles of 48-foot pavement expected to be laid daily during peak operation in the spring.

To date, the commission disclosed, a total of 40 miles of single lane pavement has been placed over 10 miles of four lanes.

Construction of the "dream" road was begun Oct. 27, 1938. The project has been listed for completion by the end of July, 1940. With 14,000 men and an estimated $25,000,000 worth of heavy equipment working at a "feverish pace" along the entire line, the commission was "confident" the super-road would be finished on time.

AROUND CITY HALL

When council met on Monday approval was given to a motion, presented by Finance Director J. L. Pink, authorizing any member interested to attend the convention of the Municipal Finance officers at Penn State College, Friday and Saturday. Finance Director Pink has attended the last three annual meetings.

It is likely that as soon as decision on tax assessment appeals have been made council will enter a budget huddle. According to the state law, council must on the first Monday in December report the receipts estimated for the ensuing year and after the budget is compiled display it for 20 days, in a public place.

Councilmen J. D. Alexander and J. M. Rice who were last week, attended council meeting Monday despite the fact that they were still feeling effects of severe colds.

Reports current say that triennial assessments for the coming three years are down approximately $2,000,000. However, the board of revision has not yet acted on any of the appeals made by those who want their assessments cut or decreased further. There are residents of some wards who have not yet been heard. After all the appeals are made and the board of revision acts and the necessary city government needs for 1940 are stated, then will come the announcement as to whether the tax millage will remain as it now is, 11½ mills or take an upward slant.

It is very likely that when Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Finance Director James L. Pink and Councilmen W. H. Dunlap, J. D. Alexander and J. M. Rice powwow over the 1940 budget there will also be seated around the table Mayor-elect Charles B. Mayne and Councilman-elect D. O. Davies. It has been custom for outgoing city officials to invite incoming city officials to attend budget meetings.

Prepare To Keep Highways Open

Several Thousand Miles Of Snow Fence Being Erected

BEING ASSEMBLED

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—Maintenance forces of the state highway department have begun the placing of snow fence preparatory to the department's winter-long policy of keeping roads open for travel.

During the next few weeks 12-247,930 feet or more than 2300 miles of fence will be erected along exposed sections of the highway to check the drifting of snow onto the highway.

Machinery is being assembled and placed in commission for use immediately when necessary. The highway department has 1864 snow plows, 506 power graders and 152 machines for the spreading of cinders.

This huge investment in equipment is scattered throughout all of the department's 11 engineering districts. Mechanics in recent weeks have been getting this machinery ready for use.

In addition stocks of cinders have been dumped near grades and curves to be spread on the road surface when conditions warrant to assure safe driving to the motorist.

Instructions have been sent to the field forces concerning snow removal. When the first snow falls requiring the department to use its equipment these instructions will be followed and the well organized maintenance forces will tackle another task in stride.

Engineers of the department are now compiling data on the mileage of road to be included on the 1939-40 snow removal program. All main highways are included on the snow removal program as is a considerable mileage of the more important rural routes.

Communist Labor

Philadelphia "Christian Labor"
School Found To Combat Evil

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—For the fifth straight year, more than 1,000 persons have enlisted in a "Christian Labor" evening school founded in Philadelphia and rapidly spreading to other large cities.

Major curriculum of the evening school for adults conducted by St. Joseph's College is composed of courses of relations between worker and employer and paper labor encyclopedias. Chief object of the school, according to Rev. Robert A. Parsons, S.J., its dean, is to "oust communistic leadership from local labor unions."

"About ten labor locals, representing approximately 50,000 workers, have been rid of communistic leaders," estimated Father Parsons. He revealed that about 4,000 men and women—mostly of the working class—have attended the "school of social sciences" since its inception.

Reopen Petition
For Zone Change

Council convened in the city building on Monday and upon request of Attorney S. L. Clarke decided to re-open the petition presented by Frank Ruscetti for a change in the zoning law in a section of Division street.

Clarke maintained the petition presented did contain a majority in foot frontage whereas council reportedly in error Thursday, did not believe so and rejected the petition which asked the zone be changed from a residential to a local business zone.

A session of court will be held tomorrow morning at which motions and petitions will be heard.

County commissioners have decided to cover the newly graded lawn with mushroom mulch instead of straw, as it is claimed that it is better than straw for keeping hillsides from washing. The mushroom mulch will be obtained at the caves on the Medusa Cement Company plant at Wampum.

There is a big bookcase in the basement of the old court house which contains records of the probatory's and other offices from the time the court house was opened here and for many years thereafter. At present these records are hard to get at, and are covered with thick layers of dust. Architect H. M. Wirsing, who is in charge of the court house improvements, is arranging a new and better place for the records, and in the future it is anticipated that they will be given some attention.

As the new addition to the court house and the Boyles property improvements will all be completed and paid for this year, there are no big expenditures facing the county next year. In view of this fact, it is believed a further reduction of county taxes can be made next year. The present county tax rate is six mills, including the general and poor tax. It has been reduced several times in recent years, and if further reduction is made for 1940 it will be among the lowest tax millages in the state. One of the big factors which will enable the county commissioners to still further reduce taxes, is the huge collections of delinquent taxes, which have been made under the several abatement acts.

Owing to the election last week and the closing of the court house on Armistice Day, there was a considerable falling off in business at the different offices. In the register and recorder's office only thirty-nine instruments of all kinds were entered. Of this number, eighteen were deeds and nine were mortgages. Four of the mortgages, totaling $6,000, were to building and loans and five, totaling $7,000, were to banks.

County commissioners have passed a resolution to purchase two automobiles, one for the probatory officer, and the other for the commissioners. The latter car will be of the station wagon type, so that it may be used in transporting ballot boxes. The boxes, which are now being kept at the county seat, will have to be hauled to all the different voting precincts at primaries and elections. They will be returned by election judges. Heretofore the probatory officer has furnished his own car and has received seven cents a mile for every mile traveled. The county commissioners have been figuring up and believe that it will be cheaper for the county to furnish a car and pay for the gasoline and oil.

A consignment of personal property tax blanks to be used by the various county assessors throughout the county, has been received at the county commissioners' office. These blanks will be distributed by the assessors to property owners who are expected to list all their personal property for taxation. The property to be listed includes mortgages, judgments, notes, agreements, stocks, bonds and other securities. The tax on these securities is four mills. There is also a four mill tax by the state, which makes eight mills of personal property tax. The state personal property tax is of recent origin. It was started off with a nominal tax of one per cent, and was supposed to be only a temporary method of raising money, but it quickly developed into a full fledged proposition. One feature of the personal property tax that citizens hold to be unfair, is that of taxing securities that do not bear interest. For instance, the holder of a stock that never paid a dividend, and not likely ever will, is taxed at a rate indicated by the market price of the stock. Likewise the holder of a note or mortgage on which no interest has been paid for years, must pay the personal property tax on it. The only way that payment may be escaped is by making an affidavit that the security is worthless.

Book Week Being Observed In City

Twenty-Second Annual Celebration Being Marked By Local Library Staff

The national observance of Book Week has existed for 22 years, and for all of those years the New Castle free public library has marked the week with special observance.

This week is the 22nd National Book Week and a fitting program has been arranged by the local library, along the lines of the national theme "Books Around the World".

Exhibits have been arranged at the library and in the window of the Pennsylvania Power company. Some of the new books have been completed and are ready in the junior department to free circulation to parents and teachers.

Many new books have been secured and were placed on the library shelves for the first time this week, and are now ready for circulation. Miss Alice Sterling, local librarian, urges the general public to visit the library this week and see the many new books, and find those desirable for gifts to children.

In discussing the new books today, Miss Alice Joyce and Miss Sterling decided that nearly all of the popular books of the present time for the "young adults" are dealing with careers. Such books as "Peggy Goes to Washington", "Kitchen Magic", the Sue Barton nursing books and books on library work are a few examples.

Special activities arranged by the library for this week include the presentation of two plays in the library assembly room and a special story hour period.

The program begins on Wednesday afternoon, at which time a cast of pupils from the Arthur Magill school will present the play entitled "Magic Windows". Miss Elizabeth Mackey will be in charge of this group and students from the Highland school will witness the play.

Thursday afternoon, Miss Joyce will conduct a special story hour for the children of the city schools. This will be in the library assembly room also, and Miss Joyce has arranged stories to carry out the Book Week theme.

Friday afternoon, Miss Jane Young of the Mahoning junior high school will bring a cast of students to the library to present "Story Terrace". This play will be viewed by students from the Oak street school, who have been invited by Miss Sterling.

From all indications, Miss Sterling believes that this will be the most successful Book Week held for a number of years.

Girl Scout Heads To Have Training Course Given Here

New Council Members And Troop Committeemen To Learn Of Organization

In order that new members of the New Castle Girl Scout Council, along with members of the various troop committeemen, might secure a better knowledge of the workings of the Girl Scout organization, a training course has been planned.

First session for this course will be held on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the headquarters in the Greer building. The course will be under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Reis, deputy commissioner here.

This course will continue each Wednesday morning for four weeks, according to Miss Reis. In discussing the course today, Miss Reis said that the work covered would include an outline of the history and aims of the movement, and functions of both the local and national councils.

Miss Reis stressed the fact that while this course will be very instructive, it is open to all those interested in Girl Scouting here in New Castle.

Council Approves Sewer Projects

Sanitary Sewer In Big Run And Storm Sewer In Reynolds St. To Be Built

Council met in city hall Monday and voted for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Big Run and a storm sewer in Reynolds street.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath did not vote.

A motion to instruct the city engineer, G. R. Throop, to proceed with construction was voiced by Councilman J. D. Alexander. A second was offered by Councilman W. H. Dunlap.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath said he desired to withhold his vote until he learned whether or not W. R. and Isabel Hanna had signed a damage waiver. The A. & W. railroad also is involved.

City Solicitor William Cobau notified council his assistant, Gilbert Long, had contacted Mr. Hanna. The latter said, according to Long's statement to Cobau, Hanna desired to await completion of the work.

The construction jobs are to be started to provide employment during the winter months, it was stated. No action was taken on the proposed storm sewer in North Jefferson street at Monday's session.

Recovering From Serious Accident

Mrs. Emma Cooper, wife of Thomas Cooper of Scott township, who fell recently and broke both wrists, has so far recovered as to be able to come to the city yesterday for treatment.

Mrs. Cooper was coming out of the Presbyterian church at Harlansburg, with a vase of flowers in her hands, when she tripped and fell down the steps. She was in the Jameson Memorial hospital for several days following the accident, but has recently been undergoing treatment at her home.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

DR. DAFOE DEFLATES OLD THEORY OF CHILD'S LAXATIVE

As we saw yesterday, some small children are afflicted with constipation, and no amount of changes in diet will correct this. In such cases we may use laxatives, but we must be very careful of the type we use.

There are many different types of laxative, each with a different action. For instance, some of these laxatives act by increasing the water content of the bowel, thus causing the bowel to become distended, setting up a reflex action which empties the bowel. Such a laxative is epsom salts. It is rarely used in childhood for the control of constipation because, as a rule, its action upon the bowel is apt to be too drastic; it may do real harm.

Other laxatives act by releasing irritating acids in the bowel which cause the movements of the bowel to become more rapid until it empties itself. Such a laxative is castor oil. Castor oil liberates a strong acid in the bowel which may be all right for adults but has no place in the control of constipation in children.

I am sorry to have to deflate this old theory that castor oil is good for children, but what I tell you is a fact. We oldtimers in the field of general practice know how widespread was and is the idea that castor oil is the thing to administer.

I remember a rather startling story that came to my attention in my practice. In one part of my section of the country we had a children's shelter. There were quite a few youngsters kept there for adoption, and the choice of a woman to run the place was always something of a problem.

Death removed the old superintendent one day and we finally got a new woman who came to us highly recommended. She had been there for some weeks when I was called to see some of the children who were badly upset. They seemed to be having trouble with their bowels. I examined them and then I sent for the superintendent, to find what they had been eating. She told me what they had had—just plain ordinary food that youngsters need. Then she added, "Doctor, I can't understand how anything could be wrong with their bowels. I keep them clean all the time."

I couldn't quite understand her meaning so I asked her to explain what she meant.

"Every child in this institution gets a physic once a week," was her astounding reply. "One Saturday they get epsom salts, the next Saturday they get castor oil."

Well, I had thought the day was past when we had such barbarous practices. I remonstrated with her, told her that she might be doing permanent injury to the tender bowels of her small children. I tried to show her how harmful it was but I couldn't get anywhere with her. She made it plain that she thought I was just an ignorant country doctor. She was from the city and she knew what was good for her children.

Well, the upshot of it was I had to bring the matter to the attention of those in charge of the shelter. Of course they had her removed immediately. I was sorry to have to do this, but even now it makes me shudder when I think of what those children went through. In fact, it rather sounds like the methods of some of our modern dictators in Europe. I believe castor oil plays an important role in their punishments and tortures. Why give it to babies?

Women Will War On Billboards

Begin Campaign Which Will Culminate In Campaign For State Law Passage

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—The Pennsylvania Roadside Council, representing a score of civic, cultural and women's groups, will use anti-billboard messages on the backs of 1,000,000 envelopes in an effort to clear the state of unnecessary signs. Envelopes bearing the slogan, "I favor products not advertised on billboards" and showing contrasting scenes with and without posters, will be sold for one cent each to finance a statewide "educational" program, according to Mrs. Cyril G. Fox, chairman.

"Our drive will culminate in 1941 with the drafting of a state law prohibiting billboards except in towns and cities," she declared.

Bergdoll's Appeal Being Considered By Federal Court

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The federal circuit court of appeals today had under consideration Grover Cleveland Bergdoll's appeal from an eight-year sentence imposed by an army court martial for evading the draft in the last war.

Bergdoll's attorney argued that he had never formally entered the army and hence could not be legally tried by a military court.

It was further revealed that Bergdoll has refused the $300,000 offered him by the government in settlement of his confiscated estate and would seek to obtain the full amount of about $750,000.

BRITISH MAKE LIGHT OF SHETLAND ISLAND BOMBING ON MONDAY

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 14.—German claims of heavy damage during yesterday's Nazi air raid on the Shetland Islands were emphatically denied by high British naval circles today.

In contrast to German contentions that two British seaplanes were destroyed and a cruiser possibly hit, these circles said:

"The damage consisted of a few broken windows and a few yards of plowed-up ground."

"The casualties: We found the body of a dead rabbit in one of the bomb craters."

Believe Invasion Of Holland Or Belgium Is Staved Off

Belgium Feels Quite Confident

May Ask U. S. To Join In Efforts Being Made For Peace

NO CONFIRMATION OF SUCH REPORTS

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BRUSSELS, Nov. 14.—The Belgian government believes that Belgium and Holland, for the time being at least, have staved off any possibility of a German invasion.

This was revealed to International News Service on the highest authority today amid reports that Belgium and the Netherlands were weighing the advisability of asking the United States to join in the Dutch-Belgian drive toward mediation for peace.

These reports were not substantiated officially but diplomatic quarters were keenly interested in the Sunday night conference at the Hague between Queen Wilhelmina and United States Minister George A. Gordon.

No Instructions
So far as is known, however, United States Ambassador Joseph P. Davies has received no instructions from Washington to call upon King Leopold.

Reports from Berlin, meanwhile, indicated King Carol of Rumania might join Wilhelmina and Leopold in their efforts to terminate the European war. The Belgian foreign office considers that the door is still open to mediation as a result of the British and French replies to the Dutch-Belgian peace bid. Cancellation of Hitler's reply is awaited with keen interest.

A high source competent to reflect the opinion of the Belgian government stated:

"German military pressure upon Holland and Belgium has now been relieved. Two forces are at work in Germany, and the force opposing invasion appears to have won out with Hitler."

"The decision also was motivated by the conversations which have been going on between Holland and Belgium."

FORREST'S AUTO AGAIN MISSING

Believed Abandoned In Cleveland, But Has Now Disappeared Again

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents today were seeking not only the two men alleged to have abducted and robbed Milo Forrest, R. D. 7, but also his auto.

Cleveland police Monday reported to city police the car had been located in Cleveland. However, apparently it was not guarded because when G-men went to get it the car had been taken again.

According to New Castle police the pair stole a car from Long avenue, late Saturday night, wrecked it along the Mt. Jackson highway and were given a "lift" by Forrest.

His story to police said the men robbed him of $480, forced him to drive to Briar hill section, Youngstown, where he was ejected from the auto when later was found apparently abandoned in Cleveland.

RED CROSS HEAD ROTARY'S GUEST MONDAY AT NOON

On hand to help launch Lawrence county's 1939 Roll Call of the American Red Cross, James L. Fieser, national vice chairman in charge of all Red Cross domestic operations, gave Rotary club members and guests a "preview" address on Red Cross activities yesterday at noon.

The high executive of the great humanitarian organization, who had come 7,500 miles in round-about fashion to speak, impressed his audience with the story of current Red Cross work. For several months he has been traveling through many states and making one-day visits in towns and cities from Butte, Mont., east.

Rev. Fr. Doerr In Charge

With Fieser at the speakers' table were Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr of St. Joseph's church, a Rotarian and head of the Roll Call speakers' division; Fred Taylor, Rotary president, Norman E. Clark, Roll Call chairman, and Ralph F. Davis, chairman of the local chapter board.

Father Doerr, departing from custom, dramatically introduced the audience to the speaker—instead of the speaker to the audience—by asking all to rise.

At a reserved table sat local Red Cross leaders. Headed by Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, chapter executive, they included L. J. Lewis, vice chairman of the Roll Call; Alex McGready, county chairman of the Roll Call; Glen L. Berry, chapter vice chairman; M. D. Cohn, Roll Call publicity chief, who received a special certificate of commendation from Mr. Fieser; Mrs. John Crowl, now of Oil City and former chapter leader; W. A. Francis, speakers' bureau member and Miss T. J. Fulton, Erie, home service secretary for the national organization and temporarily stationed here.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—The off-year election was noteworthy, for the side of the Republican victors, for the great number of interesting local contests which took place, involving figures of statewide interest—one of them, the election of State Sen. Edward R. Frey as Pittsburgh city controller, may necessitate his resignation when he takes the oath of office in January and another special election... Frey's district is strongly Democratic in registration... Senator Frey was elected last year and his term expires in 1942.

Schuykill County had its surprise when Judge Henry Houck, son of the late Paul W. Houck, who built one of the most impregnable Republican county machines in the state, was defeated for re-election by a Democrat, Vincent J. Dalton... The election of Dalton gives the county court bench three Democrats and one Republican... The Schuykill county Republican chairman is Judge Houck's brother, Paul Houck.

Two state senators, in addition to Frey, who also ran for local office in the election went down to defeat. Sen. Anthony J. Cavalcante was overwhelmed in Fayette county. While in Cambria county Sen. John J. Haluska lost out in his race for county treasurer.

Rep. Herbert B. Cohen, Democratic floor leader of the house, is being given credit for the election of Judge-elect Walter L. Anderson, Democrat, who defeated Judge Robert N. Laird for a full term... Laird was appointed by Governor James... He was defeated by 3,000 votes. Cohen managed to escape the Republican landslide last year, winning re-election to the house by less than 200 votes.

The defeat of Mayor J. Henry Stump, socialist mayor of Reading, brought to an end for a second time Reading's second experiment in socialism... Stump, who was running for a third term, lost by only 943 votes, however, to the Democratic candidate, Harry F. Menges. The Republican candidate came in a bad third... At the same time the Democrats took over the city council giving Reading its first Democratic administration since 1928.

Call Memberships

Red Cross Roll Call voluntary workers in the Seventh Ward district, today got off to an early start in their annual campaign to secure memberships for the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Working under the supervision of Mrs. George Horchler and Mrs. John B. Brettell, co-captains, the ladies plan a systematic canvass of the entire district.

Mrs. Horchler today stated that she hopes that each and every resident of the district will do his or her part for the Red Cross when approached by a worker this week.

Book Week Display
Attracts Attention

Chows How Mythical Trip
Around World May Be Gained By Everyone

You can quite easily take a mythical trip around the world, through the medium of books and your public library, at least this is the theme portrayed in the attractive Book Week display found in the Seventh Ward Branch Library, on East Madison avenue.

The display is attracting considerable attention, and was cleverly arranged by Miss Sarah Mervis to carry out the book week theme, "Books Around the World". Arranged in clever fashion are miniature book covers, each one telling the tale of a different land and a different people. From each book is a red streamer leading to the back of the display and to the correct spot on a map of the world, which that book represents.

Huge Twin-Motored Grumman
Amphibian Moored in Wilson Hangar Over Night

While engaged in an aerial photographic mission over this section of the country, Monday afternoon, four United States Army officers in a huge twin-motored Grumman Amphibian airplane, landed at the New Castle Airport to spend the night.

Flying out of Langley Field, Va., the crew was headed by Lieutenant Dale Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson of West Pittsburg. Other crew members were: Lieutenant P. E. Gable, Sergeant Maullen and Sergeant G. W. Lovett. They were all guests at the Anderson home Monday night.

According to Lieutenant Anderson, the plane was scheduled to leave the field here this morning at 10 o'clock, and continue the photo work over the Pittsburgh district. The ship was large enough to accommodate six persons, in addition to a large amount of equipment. The airplane attracted considerable attention in the Wilson hangar where it was stored overnight. Lieutenant Anderson left the New Castle field Sunday morning for Langley Field, upon the completion of a short leave of absence, and on Monday morning he was assigned to pilot the aerial flight ship.

Four Major Teams With Clean Slates

Tennessee, Texas A. & M., Cornell And Duquesne Are Undefeated And Untied

Cornell Will Play Dartmouth This Week, Tennessee Will Battle Vanderbilt

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Besides Tennessee, Texas A. & M. and Cornell and Duquesne, the four major football teams with perfect records, at least six other teams are creating havoc all along the line and possibly are headed toward sectional honors as the current season advances toward a conclusion. These are the outfits which had the misfortune to stumble into a tie somewhere along the route, and with that drop from the ranks of the perfect few, on the coming weekend five of the half dozen undefeated big teams will be prominently in the limelight.

North Carolina, Oklahoma, U. C. L. A., Georgetown, Southern California and Tulane all have shown themselves to be first rate teams despite the stalemates that dot their records. Two of them could be the toughest teams in the nation on the basis of what they have shown in recent games after being deadlocked in their opening starts of the season, the same being Oklahoma and Southern California. They have come on fast since then.

Duquesne Idle

With Tennessee against Vanderbilt, Texas A. & M. against Rice, Cornell against Dartmouth while Duquesne idles, these three contests will be top-flight Saturday due to the teams with perfect records involved, but of no less importance will be games in which the one-tied group will engage. Among these Southern California has an off-day.

One of the very outstanding battles nationally and a tremendous event in its own sector will be the clash between Oklahoma, winner of every start since being tied by S. M. U. in its opener, and Missouri, which has made every game a winner, except one with Ohio State.

North Carolina, highest point-scorer in the nation among major eleven with a total of 206, will tangle with Duke in a three-star special in Dixieland, while Tulane the team that spoiled North Carolina's record and at the same time its own with a deadlock, will come east to meet Columbia.

Good Schedule

Georgetown will travel here to take on New York University, and U. C. L. A. will square off with Santa Clara.

Quite obviously none of the top flight eleven is drawing a breather this time. In fact, virtually every one of the games will be close to an even money proposition insofar as the one-tied are concerned.

The same can't be said for the fast-moving unbeaten trio which will see action. Tennessee, which has scored 173 points while allowing the opposition none, figures to take Vanderbilt handily, and Texas A. and M., probably will be a one-sided choice over Rice. Cornell and Dartmouth is another story. That will be a tough one.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

When the Kentucky Derby purse was increased to $75,000 added money it placed that historic event on a plane above that of any other 3-year-old classic in the nation. It endowed the Churchill Downs contest with its most copious purse since the inaugural which found Aristides carrying off $2,850. At that time the Kentucky derby was just another horse race. The new value elevates the Derby from its previous top of $50,000 added and creates a new standard for 3-year-old contests. Only the Santa Anita handicap now surpasses its value but that race is for horses 3-year old and up. In the days of Galant Fox and Twenty Grand, the Kentucky event, enjoyed lush days with cuts handed out to winners. When the depression hit bottom, the purse was cut to $30,000. The $50,000 purse was restored and now with $75,000 added, it has reached its highest peak.

George Pace, bantamweight champion, knocked out Bobby Docherty of Toronto in one minute and 34 seconds at Columbus, O., last night. The blow was right at the belt. Columbus, a five minutes rest and he came out again and was flattened a second time in 34 seconds. . . Al Mancini, Providence, dethroned Joe Archibald, featherweight champion, in 10 rounds of a non-title bout at Providence. . . Senior Arturo Godoy, Chile, arrived yesterday in New York for his fight with Joe Louis, heavyweight champion, in New York, February 9. He has already been labeled the "beast surprise." . . Reports say Dick Harlow will resign at Harvard and succeed Frank Debon as Maryland U. coach. . . Erie Strong Vincent and Erie East played a 7-7 grid tie last night. . . Pitt will open the 1940 football season against Missouri at Pittsburgh.

John Doyle, senior Wisconsin football center from Erie, will captain Purdue, Saturday. . . Conception, Mo., lost to Boys Town. Although, due to the difference in their ages there is a little bias for competition, Rimechell would seem to have almost as strong a claim as Chalcedon to being the outstanding boxer of 1939. He remains unbeaten. He is well-mannered and never gives his handlers a bit of trouble.

Sports World Ramblings

Local Bits: Congratulations to Harvey Harmon, ex-New Castle high grider. His Rutgers team spilled Lafayette's 13-6 to maintain its undefeated state Saturday. The victory also gave the Scarlet eleven its second consecutive Middle Three championship. . . Bob MacNeill, ex-Hurricane flash, took a hand in Muskingum's 55-0 rout of Heidelberg which clinched the Ohio Conference title for the Muskies. MacNeill scored a touchdown and a point after touchdown.

Notre Dame's downfall: One play was mainly responsible for the Irish's setback at the hands of Iowa. As the clock ticked off the final 40 odd seconds of the first half, Kinnick faded back to N. D.'s 40 and flipped an aerial into the end zone. Steve Sitko, Irish quarterback, intercepted and started running. Reaching his 4, Sitko violated a cardinal sin of the grid game by trying a lateral in such a dangerous zone. He fumbled and Iowa recovered.

Two plays later, Kimmick raced over and then dropped kicked the extra point which erased Notre Dame from the list of undefeated collegiate bigwigs. It was unusually odd that a Notre Dame player, noted for alertness and for being cool, especially when the going gets the toughest, would pull such a play. The incident emphasizes more than ever how a single play can ruin a football game.

Grid Oddities: Besides upsets and other things, Saturday's grid parade included a few oddities. In the mud, Texas Tech-Centenary punted 76 times, fumbled 15 times, made but two first downs and neither team tried a pass. Score, 0-0. . . Aubrey Epps, property of the New York Giants. He caught for the Memphis Chickens in the Southern loop last season. He was made a member of the Memphis police force and after a leave of absence to play baseball, is back wearing a badge over his heart instead of a catcher's glove on his hand.

Once more a former athlete joins office-holders. He is "Jokey" Travers, catcher who will take over a county commissioner's role in January. Although you may not know it, Jimmy Morell, local chauffeur once was a good one to bet on in Philadelphia rings. He fought in the days of Joe Borrell.

There are several duck hospitals one at Tule Lake, Cal., according to the NNS. The hospital treats the wild fowl found suffering from botulism, which deprives ducks of wings and also their swimming ability. Those having botulism usually drown. They are fed glucose and given a shot of potassium permanganate. Recovery consumes three days.

Indications are that Billy Reale, the plow-boy from Castlewood, will be on the next amateur fistic card in the Arena, November 27. He is one of this district's most pleasing sluggers. Another chap who will unfurl his punches will be Teddy Yarns' brother, Tommy, of Monaca. Fans are talking of the calibre of the amateur fistic being staged here.

California might be said to be a place where fighters are reared for the big money in the east. Henry Armstrong, Lou Nova, Max Baer, Glenn Loew and Fred Apostol are a few of the fighters who have attracted customers during the past few years to fatten Mike Jacobs' bank account.

Recall Joe Woodman and George Lawrence who formerly handled that busload of heavyweights, Sam Langford? They have hooked up with Max Waxman to share in the handling of Red Burman who will tour the country. When Langford was fighting the "referee" usually was one of his own fists.

Although, due to the difference in their ages there is a little bias for competition, Rimechell would seem to have almost as strong a claim as Chalcedon to being the outstanding boxer of 1939. He remains unbeaten. He is well-mannered and never gives his handlers a bit of trouble.

Warner Keane is a son of Coach Keane at Rhode Island state, and has won two games for his father this season. Warner kicked a goal that beat Massachusetts State, 23 to 20, and the following week his conversion turned back Northeastern, 7 to 6.

General George Marshall, new chief of staff of the Army, and one of the few non-West Point men to win that position, was a star tackle at West Virginia Institute 39 years ago. . . Although football is not yet through for 1939, they're practicing basketball in Indiana.

Pitt Crippled For Nebraska Game

Local Bits: Congratulations to Harvey Harmon, ex-New Castle high grider. His Rutgers team spilled Lafayette's 13-6 to maintain its undefeated state Saturday. The victory also gave the Scarlet eleven its second consecutive Middle Three championship. . . Bob MacNeill, ex-Hurricane flash, took a hand in Muskingum's 55-0 rout of Heidelberg which clinched the Ohio Conference title for the Muskies. MacNeill scored a touchdown and a point after touchdown.

Notre Dame's downfall: One play was mainly responsible for the Irish's setback at the hands of Iowa. As the clock ticked off the final 40 odd seconds of the first half, Kinnick faded back to N. D.'s 40 and flipped an aerial into the end zone. Steve Sitko, Irish quarterback, intercepted and started running. Reaching his 4, Sitko violated a cardinal sin of the grid game by trying a lateral in such a dangerous zone. He fumbled and Iowa recovered.

Two plays later, Kimmick raced over and then dropped kicked the extra point which erased Notre Dame from the list of undefeated collegiate bigwigs. It was unusually odd that a Notre Dame player, noted for alertness and for being cool, especially when the going gets the toughest, would pull such a play. The incident emphasizes more than ever how a single play can ruin a football game.

Grid Oddities: Besides upsets and other things, Saturday's grid parade included a few oddities. In the mud, Texas Tech-Centenary punted 76 times, fumbled 15 times, made but two first downs and neither team tried a pass. Score, 0-0. . . So many penalties were called in the Southern California-Stanford game that floodlights were turned on so the teams could finish the fourth quarter. . . Following Georgia Tech's triumph over Kentucky, a Tech player took off his headgear and tore into an enemy lineman. Result: A free for all.

Sports Cocktail: Fans are so wrapped up in the current collegiate pigskin activities that they've almost forgotten that Billy Conn dons his mitts against Gus Lesnevich for the light heavy coronet Friday night. . . Plenty of chattel is expected next month when the baseball moguls gather for their winter meetings in Cincinnati. As an added attraction, I suggest that the ivory hunters go en masse to Crosley field to find out if Ernie Lombardi is still light housekeeping on home plate.

Afield And Astream

With Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association By GEORGE SILLMAN

The president of the "Tin City Hunting club" received the following letter the other day and said it was a kick out of its contents and thought you would too, so here it is: Rich Vallee Nov 17, 1939.

Dear Sir: I just got back from voting down to the school house at cooks run and run plum into old man Pantan. He said that he had been over to Montour holler last week and the natives told him the bears are simply overrunning the range. I guess you fellows will be pulling in sometime next week and I heard up at bucktale inn one day last week that they are expectin' 'big wind' Ringer any moment now.

Fred there are boy was cuttin' a little hardword for the kitchen stove last Saturday in the draw up back of the house and we saw were a old bear tore a stump to pieces looking for grubs and only yesterday the boys from the tile camp up Elk fork saw a big bruin going up towards low notch off Elk point.

I heard from some of the fellers last week they thought it might be tough to get off work just now but damn it all cifer the bear season is mity short at 4 days and its a long wait till the next one. The camp is in good shape plenty wood windsers all in stove still standing on 3 legs and on that old bear bottle ringer set up. The best that rainy and mickermick busted down has got a new gin pole in it so it should hold up.

The old lajee was still laffin at cloud (your kook last season) the other day. The time cloud was looking vegetable sup and fred asked him how it was and cloud said just like the hash we had last Friday nite only looser. Old Smite used to throw together sum queer coosums they tell me. I often wonder what became of that xtra pair of sheepskin moccasins that bob Fleming couldn't find that one morning. You remember the nite biggie rased nase cause the mutton suit was so danged strong. Im not so sure smittle isnt a little neared.

We have had 2 good snows and rite now there is about 2in in the valley with plenty more on top of the mountains. It sure should be good gunning. Lots of feed ever ure in the woods that kin grow a nut had a good kook. plenty of grapes and my gess is the bear went den up till late. That game commission gave the hunters a break that is if the snow holds out. Bears like to eat plenty before they pull in for the winter and they are making the best of it. plenty left yet.

They tell me up to spatula that the constable has taken on a couple of xtra helpers since they learned that ringer and sillman will be up at others. them fellers sure did keep this valley in a turmoil the hole blessed season. dont know how they can keep it up as long as they can and still get away with it. ever since ringer throwed that handful of gunpowder in the coal bucket those natives up along route 46 have gone back to burning hardwood.

Well cifer all i kin say is dont miss this bear season. I look for a big take in this year. vallee especially up around brewers fork and gingers fork. The cc boys working on the read up by wildwood just side of the ps & nrr saw 3 bears 1 day and several big traks in the mud by beaver dam at the mouth of cherry valley.

emporium is booming agin. about 2000 girls working in the tube works and I guess there dont om fun sum it them to stay over nite. so they just keep a walkin around waitin for time to go to work.

well you boys will be pretti busi

Erie Tech To Bring Big Team To New Castle

Lake City Eleven Will Outweigh "Red Hurricane" Here On Saturday

NO CHANGES IN LINEUP LIKELY

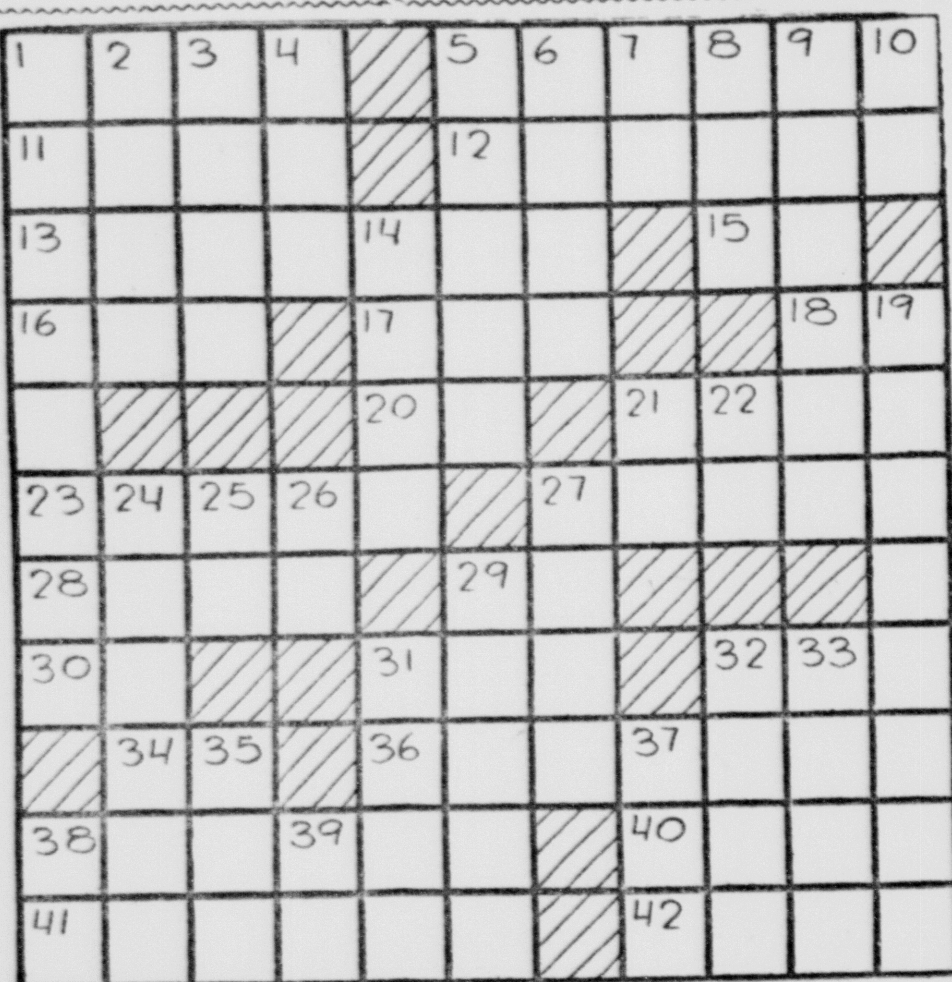

Erie Technical High football team slated for its first appearance at Taggart Stadium on Saturday afternoon will bring a lot of big boys. It will be the first meeting of the two schools. The Erie eleven will be anxious to make a good impression here. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Last Saturday the Erie boys handed St. Josephs, of Oil City a 13 to 6 setback, the week previous they handed Kingston High a 6 to 0 defeat. The Teachers also upset the big Meadville High team this year 6 to 2. They will provide the locals with plenty in the way of opposition. The Lake City team has a fine forward passing system and will use it quite a lot here.

Kulnis In Backfield

The New Castle fans are anxious to see John Kulnis in his second game as a backfield man. Last week Kulnis stole the show at Taggart Stadium in his first venture into the ball hugging department. He scored twice after runs of 65 and 30 yards. He was fine.

Market Stages Quiet Advance

Increases Are Moderate However—Several Leaders Are Noted

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The stock market staged a quiet advance today, after an initial extension of yesterday's fall and irregular trend.

A few leaders gained a point or more, but improvement generally was limited to fractional proportions.

Steels, rubbers, motors and specialties were leaders on the rally. American Can and International Harvester were individual features with extreme gains of better than 2 points.

Advances of a point or more included those in U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Crucible Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Chrysler Westinghouse Electric, Anaconda Union Carbide, Chesapeake & Ohio Goodyear and U. S. Rubber.

Bethlehem Steel, Phelps-Dodge, Allied Chemical, General Motors and Montgomery Ward did nearly as well.

There were a few backward issues, notably Car Case on a slide of more than a point. Oils including Texas Corp. and Standard of N. J. held around previous closings.
